

2022 AILA Virtual Midwinter Conference: Advanced Business and Removal/Family Navigating New Developments and Addressing Persistent Challenges

While the change in presidential administrations has brought about positive developments in immigration law, practitioners remain wary and uncertain about how to move forward given the formidable challenges that continue to stand in the way of necessary progress. That said, we can't allow the progress that has occurred to be for naught. Instead, now is the perfect time for immigration attorneys to come together and learn about ways to use these positive changes to the advantage of our clients, while also continuing to fight against remaining impediments and getting ready for what else may lie on the horizon. With this in mind, we present the 2022 AILA Midwinter Conference, designed with dual, advanced-level tracks to help prepare you for immigration practice in 2022 and beyond. Whether you take part solely in the "Advanced Family/Removal Track," attend only the "Advanced Business Track," or dabble in a mix of sessions from each, this conference will add innovative and powerful tools to your practitioner's arsenal. Don't miss it!

Note: Registrants will receive access to the recordings for all sessions following the conference.

CONSULAR PROCESSING IN A PANDEMIC

While visa processing delays are nothing new, they have gone off the rails since the end of the Trump administration. After one-and-a-half-years of pandemic-related closures and delays, consulates now seem to be going it alone, with little direction from above. Panelists will address some of the new problems that have arisen in this era of the pandemic.

- Getting “Stuck” Cases Scheduled (or Re-scheduled)
- Preparing Clients for Interviews Scheduled with Little Notice After Long Waits
- Proving Income After the 2020 Economic Downturn
- Deciphering COVID-19 Vaccination Requirements Abroad
- Dealing with Humanitarian Cases and Dangerous Country Conditions

Attendees can choose to attend one of the two panels being offered at this time and will have access to the full set of recordings.

PANEL I: PROSECUTORIAL DISCRETION: WHERE DOES IT EXIST?

OPLA attorneys may exercise prosecutorial discretion (PD), subject to direction from their chief counsel and applicable guidance from DHS: “A principal feature of the removal system is the broad discretion exercised by immigration officials. Federal officials, as an initial matter, must decide whether it makes sense to pursue removal at all.” Panelists will discuss how this is actually being applied today.

- September 30, 2021 DHS Memo: Guidelines for the Enforcement of Civil Immigration Law
- How Is PD Applied Across Different Parts of the Country?
- Are There Differing Responses to Requests for PD?
- Difficulties with Criminal-Related PD Requests
- Are OPLA’S Practices Consistent with ICE’s Victim-Centered and Vulnerable Populations Prosecutorial and Detention Policies?

PANEL II: OUR ON AGAIN, OFF AGAIN: STRATEGIES TO DEAL WITH RECENT CHALLENGES IN WORKING WITH THE COURT

The reopening of courts across the country has been plagued with problems and inconsistencies in how matters are handled. This includes everything from scheduling orders to Webex hearings to motions for administrative closure, and more. Panelists will provide expert guidance on navigating these minefields while protecting your client and your practice.

- Webex and Individual Hearings Advanced, Postponed, or Allotted as Little as One Hour
- Standing Orders and Scheduling Orders: Official Guidance Versus Realities Seen Around the Country
- Legal Fees: Considerations for Structuring Fees Given the Uncertainties of EOIR Cases
